Press Learns How FBI Unit Here Smashed Plot to Bomb High Court

By AL THOMPSON

The call came to the FBI on Nov. 17. In less than 24 hours, the caller said, there was to be an attempt to blow up the Supreme Court of the United States. He said the plot was being hatched that very moment by five men in Akron.

The agent who answered the phone listened in disbelief, not sure if it was a crank or the voice of some demented person.

The plot was real. But decisive action by the FBI prevented them from carrying it out. Here is how:

Within hours of the Sunday call teams of agents had fanned out to several locations in the Akron area—one of them to the home of a rubber worker-part time minister, another to a downtown motel.

The agents were blunt and to the point.

"WE'RE FROM THE FBI," they said. "We have information that you may be involved in a plot to blow up the Supreme Court."

Each man denied the charge, but it has been learned that a fragmentation grenade and metal parts that could be used to make a bomb were found at one of the locations.

Still not satisfied, the agents put on a bumper-to-bumper surveillance on each of the alleged plotters. Wherever they went, an agent was right behind.

Under constant vigilance, the critical hours passed and the surveillance was reduced.

THE U. S. ATTORNEY'S OFFICE in Cleveland, hoping to eliminate any desperation attempt to complete the plot, subpoenaed five men before the Federal Grand Jury last week.

While the FBI and U. S. Attorney Bernard J. Stuplinski have refused comment, The Press has managed to piece together this sequence of events. Informed sources have confirmed it. No indictments were returned, but the investigation is continuing.

All five of the alleged plotters are reported to be, or have been, members of the Ku Klux Klan. The motive for their plot is believed to have been disenchantment with many of the liberal decisions of the High Court.

One of the men subpoenaed was Donald Heath, a former Chicago policeman now living in Milwaukee, who was dismissed from the Chicago force because of his attempts to organize a Klan group within the department.

OF THE OTHERS, three live in Akron. One is the rubber-worker-part time minister. Another is a used car salesman. The third is unemployed. He is reportedly the "hit man," or the man who was to throw the bomb.

The fifth man is a former Akron resident now living in Milwaukee.

The plot apparently called for one man to enter the visitor's gallery of the court, throw either a homemade bomb or fragmentation grenade and then surrender or attempt to escape on foot.

5 Here Named In Alleged Plot To Kill Top Court

Five Ku Klux Klansmen with Akron ties have been questioned by a Federal Grand Jury in Cleveland in connection with an alleged plot to assassinate members of the U. S. Supreme Court.

Sources say the reported plot was undertaken because of disenchantment with liberal rulings by the court.

Though the FBI and U. S. Attorney here refuse to comment officially on the matter, the Beacon Journal learned that the five Klansmen were questioned but not indicted about 8 days ago by a Grand Jury.

The five KKKers are: Evan V. Lewis, 1053 Kevin dr.; John "Jack" Crites, 666 Bridge rd.; Thomas O'Brien, 666 Bridge rd.; and David J. Harris Sr., and Donald R. Heath, both former Akron residents who now are living in Milwaukee.

CRITES, Heath and Harris were involved earlier this fall in an internal squabble over whether the local Klan should assume a more militant stance.

Heath, a former Chicago policeman who was dismissed from the force in 1967 for Klan activities, advocated an activist line, contending that the local KKK should be more than a debating society.

Crites, who serves part-time as minister of the Church of Jesus Christ Christian, 3531 E. Waterloo rd., opposed any overt acts of racial or religious provocation.

Cleveland sources say that for unexplained reasons a Klan-inspired plot to throw explosives into the Supreme Court Building while justices were in session was not carried out. The alleged plot was scheduled for last Nov. 18.

Federal investigators reportedly turned up "remnants of home-made grenades" during the course of their probe leading up to the Grand Jury inquiry. The grenades, a source said, were not armed, but "easily could have been charged with explosives and fuses."

An earlier report that investigators also found other weapons was labeled inaccurate by a Federal official, who refused to say where the "grenade remnants" were uncovered.

HEATH and 19-year-old David Harris Jr., son of the senior Harris questioned by the Grand Jury, were picked up by Akron police last Summer on a suspicion charge.

Police said then that Heath had entered the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. plant and was given some plumbing fixtures by an unnamed Goodyear employe. The fixtures, police said, could have been used to make "potato-masher" hand grenades.

Heath and young Harris pleaded no contest to the suspicion charge and were fined in Municipal Court. Evan Lewis paid the fines, according to a Beacon Journal reporter who witnessed the transaction.

LEWIS reportedly invited Heath and Harris to Akron last July after Heath and Harris got mixed up in a fight and knifing scrape in Stone Mountain, Ga., national headquarters for James Venable's National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Heath was identified by Venable as former Grand Dragon of the Illinois National Knights and Harris as Wisconsin Grand Dragon. Venable also said he had banished both men from the Klan "for life" after the Stone Mountain altercation.

BANISHED or not, Heath and Harris were active in the Akron-area Klan after arriving here under Lewis' protective wing last July.

They helped spearhead a membership campaign that tripled the Klan's size to about 130 in the Akron area over the Summer and Fall.

Following a Beacon Journal story on their activities, however, the Klansmen nearly halted their membership drive and "were not very active," according to local police.

Heath later left Akron when he failed to find a steady job, but still maintains close ties here with Lewis and Crites.

Plot Reported To Kill 9 on High Court

CLEVELAND (UPI)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation today refused comment on a published report that a federal grand jury is investigating a plot by five men to assassinate the nine U.S. Supreme Court justices by blowing up their courtroom.

The report, in the Cleveland Plain Dealer yesterday, quoted sources close to the grand jury as saying the plot was to have been carried out Nov. 18 but was postponed for unknown reasons.

The sources said the five planned to kill the justices because they feel the court is too liberal.

The plot was said to involve a former Chicago policeman, a one-time Wisconsin Ku Klux Klan official, two Akron men and a fifth man.

FBI agents here and in Washington and U.S. Atty. Bernard J. Stuplinski refused to confirm or deny the report. The FBI said no arrests have been made.

Around the Nation *ATAssassination Plot

CLEVELAND—The Cleveland Plain Dealer reports that Federal authorities are investigating a plot by five men to assassinate all nine Supreme Court Justices.

The newspaper quoted sources close to a Federal grand jury as saying the five men had planned to set off explosives in the court chamber on Nov. 18. But the assassination attempt was postponed for unknown reasons.

The plot was said to involve a former Chicago police officer, a onetime Wisconsin Ku Klux Klan official, two Akron, Ohio, men and a fifth man. The Plain Dealer reported that the men were disturbed by the Court's liberal leanings.

The Chicago Sun Times said that the former policeman was dismissed last April for Klan activities in the police department.

Judge Retiring

CHICAGO — Judge John S. Hastings, 69, confirmed that he will retire from the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 7th Circuit on Feb. 1.

Hastings, a Republican appointed by President Eisenhower in 1959, said he would submit his letter of resignation after President-elect Nixon becomes President on Jan. 20.

Ex-Cop Here Quizzed on Klan Murder Plot

BY JOHN O'BRIEN

Donald Heath, a former Chicago policeman who was fired for membership in the Ku Klux Klan, was identified yesterday as one of five men under investigation in Ohio in an alleged plot to murder all nine justices of the Supreme court.

Informed sources told THE TRIBUNE that Heath, 31, is a key figure in the probe, which is being conducted amid tight secrecy by federal authorities in Cleveland.

Plot Is Thwarted

It was learned that Heath and the others have each appeared under subpoena before a federal grand jury in Cleveland. Their joint appearances on Dec. 18 came one month after the date the plot reportedly was to have taken place—Nov. 18, a Monday when the court was in session in Washington.

The alleged plot to kill the justices by detonating explosives in the courtroom was thwarted, the sources said, by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Both the FBI and United States Atty. Bernard J. Stuplinski in Cleveland have declined to comment on the case.

Reportedly, Stuplinski and his first assistant, Carl H. Miller, will resume the grand jury investigation early next months.

It was one year ago tomorrow that Heath, then a patrolman in the predominantly Negro Fillmore district, and five other patrolmen were named by Police Supt. James B. Conlisk as members of a cell of the Ku Klux Klan.

Conlisk said guns, hand grenades, and 200,000 rounds of ammunition had been seized in Heath's north side apartment, in addition to klan literature and sets of white sheets and hoods.

Confers with Leaders

Heath and two other policemen named as klansmen were subsequently fired from the department. The three others resigned.

Investigators said they had been aware of Heath's presence in Ohio for several months and that he has been known to confer with klan leaders there often. Of the four others under investigation in the alleged plot, one was identified as a klan leader in Milwaukee, where Heath is now reported living. The three others were said to be Ohio klansmen.

Ex-Chicago Cop Tied To Klan Probed In Plot On Justices

By Art Petacque

Former Chicago policeman Donald Heath is one of five persons under investigation in connection with an alleged plot to assassinate the nine justices of the U.S. Supreme Court, it was learned Thursday.

Heath, 31, was fired as a policeman last April after disclosure that he was the leader of a Ku Klux Klan cell in the department.

The alleged assassination plot has been under investigation by a federal grand jury in Cleveland.

Believed Back

A Justice Department source in Washington confirmed that Heath is one of the five persons affected.

Heath reportedly has returned to Chicago. After being fired from the force, he spent some time in Stone Mountain, Ga., headquarters of the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and later moved to Akron, Ohio.

He was arrested and fined in Akron last August after police found these items in his auto: a .22-caliber pistol, 75 rounds of ammunition, a leaded policeman's nightstick, five gallons of gasoline, rags, string, pipe casings and a small Klan sign suitable for mounting atop an auto by the rear window.

Reportedly, Heath was a policeman, the Klan elevated him from the post of Illinois leader to Midwest Imperial dragon.

However, a woman aide of James R. Venable, an Atlanta lawyer and Imperial wizard of the National Knights of the KKK, said Thursday that Heath was banished from the Klan in September for "misconduct."

She declined to elaborate except to observe that Venable has said in the past that he would "tolerate no hoodlums" in the Klan.

Venable's aide also said she heard that Heath was in Cleveland last week to appear before a federal grand jury.

Asked where she got that information, she said, "via shortwave radio."

She was asked if the Klan now is communicating by shortwave radio. She replied, "No, not necessarily. I just happen to own one."

More Than Loose Talk

The Justice Department source said the alleged assassination plot amounted to "much more than just loose talk over a coffee table."

The assassination plan was well worked out and could have been effective, the source said.

It was learned that the Federal Bureau of Investigation originally planned to arrest the five suspects but later decided to keep them under surveillance and to present information on them to the grand jury.

The grand jury reportedly was told that the plot originally was to be carried out Nov. 18 but was dropped for unknown reasons. The plan reportedly called for one member of the group to run into the Supreme Court Building in Washington and hurl explosives among the justices during a court session.

Dislike For Rulings

Members of the group were said to dislike some of the court's more liberal rulings.

Heath's link with the Klan was exposed last Dec. 28 when police raided his home and found thousands of rounds of small arms ammunition, a six-foot cross of the type the Klan employs as a fiery symbol of terrorism and vast quantities of hate literature.

Parolman James Tobin, a police undercover man who helped expose the Klan cell, said Heath once told him of a plan to fire tear gas in a Lipp theater where a Sidney Poitier movie was playing.

That alleged plan was not carried out. Tobin said Heath hatched the plan because he was infuriated that Poitier, a Negro, kisses a white woman in the movie, "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner."

"Extremists Fail To Stir Hatred In Area--Barbuto

"White supremists who came to Akron to 'create havoc and violence' are leaving the City because their efforts to organize a hate group have failed, Summit County Prosecutor JAMES V. BARBUTO said Wednesday night.

"BARBUTO and Dr. LEON FRIEDMAN, executive director of research and community relations for Akron's public schools, both addressed a meeting sponsored by the B'nai B'rith men and women and the Jewish Center on the subject of extremism in the community.

"BARBUTO said his office 'knows' that a former Chicago policeman, fired because of Ku Klux Klan activity, and a companion who came to Akron to attempt to form a Klan extremist group are leaving Summit County.

"'They can't even get jobs in Summit County,' BARBUTO said.

"BARBUTO was referring to DONALD R. HEATH, 31 of 1338 Fairbanks pl. and his 18-year-old companion DAVID JOHN HARRIS JR., 74 Wise st.

"The Beacon Journal was unable to reach either of them for confirmation that they are leaving.

"The Klan has been diminishing in Summit County, BARBUTO said.

"Klan general membership meetings draw no more than 50 to 75 persons, the prosecutor said, adding 'We feel they were unsuccessful in organizing people for violence.'

"BARBUTO said black extremism has been kept low in Akron because 'we are blessed with strong leadership in our Negro community.

"He said there are also youth extremists in the area - 'Young adults, a sorry situation, who are attacking 'The Establishment', all organized society.

"'It comes from an area where you would think there education would lead them to a better philosophy of life,' he said.

"'We have information that they are trying to get into Akron's high schools to create pockets of dissent,' he said.

"He said the Misfits motorcycle gang, qualify as extremists.

"BARBUTO said the Misfits are anti-Negro and anti-Jew and 'used fear to intimidate citizens.'

"FRIEDMAN said there has been no violence in City schools. 'We have had intermittent situations in schools where violence seemed imminent', he said.

"In each case, FRIEDMAN said, school administrators met with the students, talked with them and resolved the immediate problems.

"The incidents resulted in the formation of groups of parents, students and school personnel who are now dedicated to improving relations between the races and between school administration and students, he said.

"FRIEDMAN said literature proposing more student freedoms in high school has been distributed in the City's schools.

"The literature proposes such things as elimination of dress and hair codes, a student discipline review board composed of students; elimination of all physical punishment and elimination of grade requirements for election to student council.

"FRIEDMAN said he has seen no result of the literature.

"FRIEDMAN also said that civil rights and black pride have their places in schools. 'I cannot, however, accept militancy,' he said."

Above article appeared in the October 24, 1968 issue of the Akron Beacon Journal, Akron, Ohio.

The following article appeared in the December 26, 1968 issue of the Akron Beacon Journal, Akron, Ohio:

"5 Here Named In Alleged Plot To Kill Top Court

"Five Ku Klux Klansmen with Akron ties have been questioned by a Federal Grand Jury in Cleveland in connection with an alleged plot to assassinate members of the U.S. Supreme Court.

"Sources say the reported plot was undertaken because of disenchantment with liberal rulings by the court.

"Though the FBI and U.S. Attorney here refuse to comment officially on the matter, the Beacon Journal learned that the five Klansmen were questioned but not indicted about 8 days ago by a Grand Jury.

"The five KKKers are: EVAN V. LEWIS, 1053 Kevin dr.; JOHN 'JACK' CRITES, 666 Bridge rd.; THOMAS O'BRIEN, 666 Bridge rd.; and DAVID J. HARRIS, SR., and DONALD R. HEATH, both former Akron residents who now are living in Milwaukee.

"CRITES, HEATH and HARRIS were involved earlier this fall in an internal squabble over whether the local Klan should assume a more militant stance.

"HEATH, a former Chicago policeman who was dismissed from the force in 1967 for Klan activities, advocated an activist line, contending that the local KKK should be more than a debating society.

"CRITES, who serves part-time as minister of the Church of Jesus Christ Christian, 3531 East Waterloo rd., opposed any overt acts of racial or religious provocation.

"Cleveland sources say that for unexplained reasons a Klan-inspired plot to throw explosives into the Supreme Court Building while justices were in session was not carried out. The alleged plot was scheduled for last November 18.

"Federal Investigators reportedly turned up 'remnants of home-made grenades' during the course of their probe leading up to the Grand Jury inquiry. The grenades, a source said, were not armed, but 'easily could have been charged with explosives and fuses.'

"An earlier report that investigators also found other weapons was labeled inaccurate by a Federal official, who refused to say where the 'grenade remnants' were uncovered.

"HEATH and 19-year-old DAVID HARRIS, JR., son of the senior HARRIS questioned by the Grand Jury, were picked up by Akron police last Summer on a suspicion charge.

"Police said then that HEATH had entered the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company plant and was given some plumbing fixtures by an unnamed Goodyear employee. The fixtures, police said, could have been used to make 'potato-masher' hand grenades.

"HEATH and young HARRIS pleaded no contest to the suspicion charge and were fined in Municipal Court. EVAN LEWIS paid the fines, according to a Beacon Journal reporter who witnessed the transactions.

"LEWIS reportedly invited HEATH and HARRIS to Akron last July after HEATH and HARRIS got mixed up in a fight and knifing scrape in Stone Mountain, Ga., national headquarters for JAMES VENABLE's National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

"HEATH was identified by VENABLE as former Grand Dragon of the Illinois National Knights and HARRIS as Wisconsin Grand Dragon. VENABLE also said he had banished both men from the Klan 'for life' after the Stone Mountain altercation.

"Banished or not, HEATH and HARRIS were active in the Akron-area Klan after arriving here under LEWIS' protective wing last July.

"They helped spearhead a membership campaign that tripled the Klan's size to about 130 in the Akron area over the Summer and Fall.

"Following a Beacon Journal story on their activities, however, the Klansmen nearly halted their membership drive and 'were not very active' according to local police.

"HEATH later left Akron when he failed to find a steady job, but still maintains close ties here with LEWIS and CRITES."

The following article appeared in the January 29, 1966 issue of the Akron Beacon Journal, Akron, Ohio:

"That's The Rumor

"Klansman" Heath An FBI Agent?

"A flat 'no comment' was issued by an Akron FBI spokesman in response to a report that DONALD R. HEATH, a former local Klansman, is an FBI undercover agent.

"Rumors have been circulating for several months in Ku Klux Klan circles that HEATH, an ex-Chicago policeman, was an FBI plant.

"In this month's issue of 'Thunderbolt', official publication of the National States Rights Party, one story said:

'In 1967, DONALD R. HEATH was a Chicago police officer. Then there was publicity about him being an officer in the Klan. Allegedly he was fired. According to reports reaching the Thunderbolt, he continued his police work as undercover agent for the FBI.'

"The story went on to say that HEATH, now living in Milwaukee, had informed on several Akron Klansman now under investigation for an alleged plot to assassinate members of the U.S. Supreme Court.

"HEATH came to Akron last Summer from Stone Mountain, Ga., headquarters of the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

"He was discharged from the Chicago police force for keeping a private arsenal and proselyting for the KKK among policemen.

"In both Akron and Stone Mountain he was involved in minor scrapes with the law but never went to jail.

"The 'Thunderbolt' promised more information on HEATH's alleged ties with the FBI.

"In the meantime,' it warned its supremacist

readers, 'white patriots would do well to beware of HEATH.'"
